

Andrea Farmer

Andrea A. Farmer works for the Mandatory Center of Expertise for the Curation and Management of Archaeological Collections (MCX-CMAC), St. Louis District, U. S. Army Corps of Engineers (Corps). Ms. Farmer currently serves as the Chief Curator, providing oversight and guidance for the Corps' National Curation Regionalization Effort. From 2009 to 2016, she served as a Program Manager for the Veterans Curation Program (VCP) and a lab manager in the St. Louis VCP laboratory. Ms. Farmer received her Master's degree from the University of Alabama. Ms. Farmer has participated in numerous archaeological investigations throughout the eastern United States. She has assisted on multiple MCX CMAC projects, including the U.S. Army Heritage and Education Center archival project, the Defense POW/MIA Accounting Agency archival project, and various projects in support of the Department of Defense. Ms. Farmer is a member of the Archaeological Collections Consortium and the Heritage Emergency National Task Force.