

Ms. Angela Rhodes

Urban Planner
Construction Engineering Research Lab
Engineer Research and Development Center

Ms. Angela Rhodes is an Urban Planner and has performed work in the areas of municipal and federal planning for the last eight years. She is currently employed with the U.S. Army Construction Engineering Research Lab in Champaign IL. She received a Masters in Urban Planning in 2007 and a BS in Geography and Environmental Science in 2005. Her basic and applied social science research is in the areas of Stability Operations and Disaster Response supporting Civil Affairs, various Army Installations, and COCOMS for the US Army.