One Corps Serving The Army and the Nation
USACE 2012
Bottom Line Up Front

● Problem: Insufficient Resources
● Opportunity: Transform Headquarters
  ➢ Smaller, leaner and more responsive
  ➢ Eliminate layers and redundancy
  ➢ Institute Project Management in Headquarters
  ➢ Align Support with Mission

● HQUSACE 2012 Study
  ➢ Makes Case for Change
  ➢ Defines Ideal Future State
  ➢ Presents Structural Alternatives

Study Objective

● Create the Ideal Future Corporate Design for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers
  ➢ Engage USACE stakeholders in the process
  ➢ Determine Essential Headquarters Missions and Functions
  ➢ Develop future corporate and HQ ideal design to accomplish assigned missions and align all 7S elements (Skills, Strategy, Style of Leadership, Systems, Stakeholder Values, Shared Values and Structure)
  ➢ Advise decision-makers how to close the gaps between the ideal future design and today’s reality
The Case For Change

- Insufficient Resources to Sustain Existing Organizational Structure
- Too Many Levels
- Unclear, Fragmented Responsibilities
- Confusing Business Practices
- HQ Too Operational, Not Strategic
- Slow, Costly, Redundant, Unresponsive
- Not Fully Leveraging Technology
- Stakeholders, Congress, Public and Corps Team Members Desire Change

Change or be changed.

We are partners - treat us that way. Be inclusive.

Reduce project cost and delivery time.

Corps internal processes take too long.

Strategic Communications

One of three elements in Corps Campaign Plan

Why?

One Corps Serving The Army and the Nation

IT’S NOT

"Just Getting the Message Out"

"Just about PAO"

RELATIONSHIPS are the key to Strategic Communications

One Corps Serving The Army and the Nation
Strategic Communications means…

- Anticipating issues; getting out front
- Identifying who is affected by the project and who affects the project.
- Listening to better understand expectations, problems, concerns and issues.
- Having a communication strategy for each interested party linked to project milestones.
- Having a media strategy that lets you respond quickly
- Knowing who your spokespersons are and what’s their role
- Writing it down so everyone knows the plan.
Telling the Corps Story

FORMAL
- Interpretive Activities/Visitors Centers
- Web site
- Media tours
- Invitations for dignitaries to visit
- Great photos on your web site and as teasers
- Groundbreaking and Dedications
- Celebrate successes
- User testimonials
- Focus on the people

INFORMAL
- Church groups
- Neighborhood gatherings
- Cocktail parties
- Professional & civic organizations
- One-on-one meetings
- Family and friends
- Standing in line & sitting on the plane!
- Professional publications

Communications Principles

1. Listen to all constituencies both inside and outside USACE regarding issues of importance to them, respecting their viewpoint. Seek opportunities for synergy.

2. Communicate early, clearly, completely, honestly, accurately, and often with all constituencies on issues of importance.

3. Incorporate communication as an integral part of the project management business process.

4. Be accessible to all constituencies and respond promptly without censorship or misinformation.

5. Proactively inform the public and other constituencies of the Corps vital role in areas where we have special expertise.

6. Do what we say we will do.
Communication is a contact sport

Let’s get ready to rumble

- You have what it takes to win.
- Do you have what it takes to play?
Campaign Strategy for Communication

1. Develop key messages
2. Develop a work climate that is open, informed and actively engaged in listening and being responsive.
3. Build effective relationships
4. Integrate strategic communications into our business process.
5. Create a Communications COP

USACE Environmental Operating Principles

1. Strive to achieve Environmental Sustainability. An environment maintained in a healthy, diverse, and sustainable condition is necessary to support life.

2. Recognize the interdependence of life and the physical environment. Proactively consider environmental consequences of Corps programs and act accordingly in all appropriate circumstances.

3. Seek balance and synergy among human development activities and natural systems by designing economic and environmental solutions that support and reinforce one another.

4. Continue to accept corporate responsibility and accountability under the law for activities and decisions under our control that impact human health and welfare and the continued viability of natural systems.

5. Seeks ways and means to assess and mitigate cumulative impacts to the environment; bring systems approaches to the full life cycle of our processes and work.

6. Build and share an integrated scientific, economic, and social knowledge base that supports a greater understanding of the environment and impacts of our work.
