A Word about this Notebook

This is the 9th year the USACE and APPL have collaborated to present a partnership workshop for USACE employees and partners. We have varied the information from year to year, as a direct result of the feedback received from participants' evaluations. This year, all the information needed for partnerships is on the NRM Gateway and the notebook contains the agenda, contact information and presentations only. We encourage you to pass on duplicated information from previous years.

The USACE NRM Gateway continues to be updated with additional information for your use.

Please complete the evaluation. On your evaluation for this training, please give us suggestions on how to make the book and the Gateway as useful as possible in communicating the materials!

A Word about APPL Training and Partnership Workshops

APPL can bring tailored training and workshops to your site, to help your staff and your partners plan their work together or reach a new level of effective support for the public land you manage. To explore specialized training or partner workshops, contact Donna Asbury, APPL Executive Director, at dasbury@appl.org.
