Common Elements in a CPA

- 'Whereas' statements that describe the partnership, the authorities, and the mutually beneficial nature of the agreement
- Definitions and general provisions
- Obligations of the parties (What each will do)
- Method of payment
- Dispute resolution
- Federal and state laws
- Relationship of the parties

A Note About the Indemnification Clause

In the event that the partner is unwilling to sign the CPA due to the indemnification clause (State entities often have issues with this), a remedy that has worked in the past is to include one of the following:

- “Nothing in this agreement should be construed as limiting the rights and obligations as Grantee hereunder from pursuing a claim as allowable under the Federal Tort Claims Act.”
- Liability: Corps shall be liable, to the extent allowed by the Federal Tort Claims Act (28 U.S.C. §2671 et seq.), for claims for property damage and personal injury resulting from the negligent acts or wrongful act or omission of any Corps employee while acting within the scope of his employment arising out of the activities described herein. The Partner shall be liable, to the extent allowed by the Federal Tort Claims Act, for claims for property damage and personal injury resulting from the negligent acts or wrongful act or omission of any Partner employee while acting within the scope of his employment arising out of activities described herein.

We have also had issues with other entities wanting us to procure insurance. We’ve inserted a provision reflecting that we are essentially self-insured in those agreements to satisfy the partner.

Partnerships

Headquarters POC

In today's financial environment PARTNERING is an essential tool that allows the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to effectively manage recreation and environmental resources. In order to successfully meet our recreation and stewardship missions, and to foster shared values, vision, and a sense of ownership it is imperative that we work together with state governments, Native American tribes, private/public organizations, local communities, and other partners to maintain or advance programs from wildlife protection and habitat improvement to recreational facility enhancements.

Partnering helps to pool scarce resources, to promote coordinated, focused, and consistent mutual efforts to resolve common problems and missions, and to avoid unnecessary duplication of effort. The NRM Program has embraced this reality and is committed to fully exploring the potential development of new public-private partnerships to leverage limited appropriated funds and human resources.

This page will help you determine the right tools for your partnerships, find the right training to expand your knowledge, and learn from the successful efforts of your peers. How to Keep your Office of Counsel Happy

- Involve Office of Counsel early in the process.
- Always know the answer to your question before asking!
- Make sure you include copies of sections of the ER, EP, and Public Laws that pertain to any questions they may have.
- Remember that our lawyers have a wide variety of subject matter that they must be 'fluent' in. They may not be familiar with all of our NRM partnership specific authorities.
- Don't go with gut feelings, go with the regulations!

BUILDING STRONG®

Don't Reinvent the Wheel

- Review the existing boilerplate agreement
- Tailor it to fit your District or Division
- Send it to your Office of Counsel for review
- Get it signed and distributed to the parks
- Inform the other rangers and staff at your project about what you have the authority to do!

No. A CPA is the agreement where two or more partners agree to accomplish a project together. The Handshake Program is an incentive program where the HQ offers seed money to encourage partnering. A Handshake Project requires a CPA but not all CPA's are Handshake Projects.
