U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Headquarters

During a flood fight, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers works with local, state & federal agencies. And in the case of Tribal partners, sovereign nations. USACE maintains a trust partnership with Tribes & offers the same assistance that it provides to states under the PL84-99 program. See how that interaction plays out with the Standing Rock Sioux Tribe in North and South Dakota and the Winnebago Tribe in Iowa.

- To set your profile URL and the URL for your fan pages go to: <http://www.facebook.com/username/>
- A few important notes:
 - a.) You must have 25 fans before you can customize your URL
 - b.) You need to know which name you want for that page. Because once you have set it, you can never change it. Most USACE divisions/districts have large names and there are also several acronyms; remember, you are trying to reach a large cyber audience so the easier the better (e.g.: www.facebook.com/usacehq)
 - c.) Usernames can only contain alphanumeric characters (A-Z, 0-9) or a period (".").
