At the upper and lower entrances of the Keweenaw Waterway Project on the Portage River in the Keweenaw Peninsula, Houghton County, Michigan, are two harbors of refuge. Recreational areas managed by State and local agencies at the upper entrance include boating, swimming and picnic facilities. The lower entrance, Portage Entry, has a restroom facility and a boat launch.

The St. Marys River flows between Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan and Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, Canada. Four of the five world famous Soo Locks are located on the Michigan side. Visitors view lake freighters and ocean-going ships traverse the locks between Lake Superior to the north and Lake Huron to the south. At the visitor center a large relief map of the Great Lakes region as well as other interesting exhibits, maps and photographs are on display.
